

HEARING-LANGUAGE AND LEARNING-CRUCIAL CONNECTION

Children need to hear to learn language and Adults need to hear to maintain language and cognitive skills. Language and communication is about expanding knowledge for learning, lifelong education and health.

The Phantom Tollbooth

“Norton Juster and Jules Feiffer”

“In this box are all the words I Know. Most of them you will never need, some you will use constantly, but with them you may ask all the questions which have never been answered and answer all the questions which have never been asked. All the great books of the past and all the ones yet to come are made with these words. With them there is no obstacle you cannot overcome. All you must learn to do is use them well and in the right places.”

Communication is one of our most valuable assets and should be maintained throughout a lifetime. Don't ignore your hearing. Have your hearing tested and treated. Never accept “getting by” and hearing only half of the story. In the end you do not want your answer to be to the wrong question.
